

Retirement Calculator: How Much is Enough?

A financial plan is a great living document that we use at Matco to help guide our clients through their life cycles, and ultimately, give them peace of mind for their retirement. Another great option is walking through the retirement calculator on www.Matcofinancialinc.com.

This tool has four tabs that are used to produce an estimation on whether you and your family have enough savings for retirement. Each tab walks through basic information needed to generate the projection. This high level projection can be compounded with a financial plan through Matco to provide peace of mind for all your financial goals, not just retirement.

A financial plan is a living document we use for many purposes to help add value to our clients. At Matco we use a financial plan to help determine tax strategies, risk tolerance, estate planning and comfort in the entire wealth management picture. If you have not walked through the retirement tool online, we welcome you to do so. If you would like to have a conversation about updating or generating a financial plan, please reach out to me directly or to one of our portfolio managers.
